

Chart of Difference between Residents and Non-residents of India

Basis of Difference	Residents of India	Non-residents of India
Meaning	Persons ordinarily residing in India with economic interest.	Persons residing in India with no economic interest.
Residing Period	Here, residing period involves 1 year or more.	Here, it is less than 1 year.
Economic interest	A person residing has economic interest lies in India	The person residing doesn't have any economic interest lies in India.
Embassies workers	Here, the Indians working in foreign embassies are included.	Here, the foreigners working in Indian embassies are included.
International organisations	Indian employed in international organisations located in India are included.	Foreigners employed in international organisations located in India are included.
Ambassadors	In this, the ambassadors for India in the rest of the world are considered.	On the other hand, ambassadors in India from the rest of the world are considered.
Significance in National Income	National income includes the income from normal residents of India.	National income doesn't consider income from non-residents.